Enquiries: Please send email enquiries to Prof Carolyn Weiniger

Duration: The Israeli accredited Program is for 1 year. We may accept Observers for a shorter period. Flexible start time.

Grade: Applicants must demonstrate Board Certification in their local country

General: This post is intended for a Fellow interested in high-risk, high-parity Obstetric Anesthesia in a busy unit with over 12, 000 annual deliveries. Your post will be in the Maternity and Women's hospital, where you will gain clinical and research skills among our unique highly nulliparous, advanced maternal age, immigrant Tel Aviv population. Our women hail from diverse Ethnic and Religious backgrounds, with strong cultural beliefs that dictate many aspects of labor management. You will learn technologies and management strategies for our Obstetric patients. You will work closely with Faculty, Residents and Midwives.

You may initiate your own projects and assist with ongoing ones. There is expectation of clinical duties, research projects and quality assurance projects/audit. Knowledge of Hebrew is necessary.

Clinical: You will be an active clinician.

Hospital: The Tel Aviv Medical Center (TLVMC) is the largest medical facility in Tel Aviv. Over 100, 000 patients are treated monthly in our quaternary medical center. TLVMC has passed with distinction the extensive accreditation audit of the Joint Commission International for quality care, service and safety.

The Anesthesia department provides advanced anesthesia services, and the department includes an acute and chronic pain management unit, obstetric anesthesia services, a comprehensive sedation service and the General Intensive Care Unit. The TLVMC runs 30 operating rooms plus many out-of-operating room services such as sedation in the MRI and endoscopy suites. Lis Maternity and Women's Hospital is the premier facility for women's and maternity health services. Lis medical care spans the range of care for women of all ages. Dana-Dwek Children's Hospital treats children of all ages, from newborn to age 16. Dana-Dwek's expert medical professionals offer individualized care for each child, to address his or her specific medical, physical, and emotional needs. The Lis Maternity and Women's Hospital manages over 12, 000 annual deliveries with a 20% cesarean delivery rate, and over 6000 gynecological procedures. The Anesthesia department has multiple educational programs including two morning grand rounds, structured resident teaching and a multidisciplinary in-situ simulation program in the operating rooms.
