An Introduction to Obstetric Regional Analgesia and Anaesthesia for Trainees

Tuesday 30 March 2010
Organiser: Dr Guy Jackson, Reading

Facilitated by:
Dr Steve Yentis, Dr Jo Allam, Dr Peter Reide and Dr Tabitha Tanqueray, All from Chelsea & Westminster Hospital, London, Dr Surbhi Malhotra, St Mary’s, London & Dr Mel Woolnough, Sheffield

Stepping foot on to labour ward as a trainee can be daunting. This seminar is aimed primarily at ST1-3 trainees and intended to provide those approaching, or in the early stages of, their first obstetric block, with the knowledge and confidence to deal with regional analgesia and anaesthesia on labour ward.

The seminar includes Powerpoint presentations with plenty of opportunity for discussion, and practical exposure to different equipment and supervised practice inserting epidurals using manikins

10:00 Registration and coffee
10:15 Introduction
Dr Steve Yentis, London & Dr Guy Jackson, Reading
Anatomy
Different techniques
“Walk through” epidural & asepsis
Glass spine
Discussion
12:30 Lunch
13:15 “Walk through” CS
Hands on
Troubleshooting 1
Troubleshooting 2
Medicolegal aspects
15:45 Discussion
16:15 Depart

Registration Fees: AAGBI Trainee Members £80, Non Members £240
Book via the AAGBI website: www.aagbi.org